Ophthalmology Services at Spire Nottingham Hospital

Although we can function without our sight, we rely heavily on vision to live our everyday lives. The eye is one of the most complex organs in our bodies, which is no surprise when you understand the challenges in providing vision.

At Spire Nottingham Hospital our specialist Consultant Ophthalmologists offer a comprehensive service for the assessment, diagnosis and treatment of eye and vision concerns.

Patients can be seen by one of our Ophthalmologists within a few days.

Should further treatment be required, we offer a range of anaesthetic options including local, general or eye drops. There is little or no waiting time for surgery and treatment can start as soon as the patient is ready.

Ophthalmology integrates with many other branches of medicine. The commonest cause of visual impairment under the age of 65 years is diabetes, and at Spire Nottingham Hospital our Consultants have access to other specialists within the hospital to work with and refer to as appropriate.

We offer diagnosis through to treatment for a variety of eye conditions including:

- Cataract surgery
- Oculoplastics
- Oculofacial rejuvenation
- Tear duct drainage
- Glaucoma
- Macular degeneration
- Orthoptics

Private patients benefit from access to collaborative care and facilities with the latest technology. Our approach is designed to be convenient for people who lead busy lives and who have limited time to seek medical advice and treatment.
