Consultant Directory

Expert healthcare for your patients

Looking after you.

This directory has been produced for Clinicians as a guide to Spire Bristol Hospital, and the services and specialities we offer.

Established in 1987, Spire Bristol Hospital has been providing excellent care, expertise and knowledge in a safe, clean environment for over 30 years, offering the greatest range of high quality treatments, services and diagnostic facilities in the South West, which are consultant led and underpinned by an experienced critical care team, ITU and HDU. Our patients benefit from en-suite bedrooms, flexible visiting times, and catering led by an experienced head chef. Patients and visitors further benefit from free car parking and a concierge service that will support them during their stay. Spire Bristol is the only independent hospital in the area which treats children from the age of 3 years, supported by an experienced team of paediatric nurses who work in a dedicated wing with family rooms.

We differ from many other private healthcare providers in the country, and are the only independent hospital in the South West with the ability to undertake highly complex and advanced surgery. This is due to having a fully equipped intensive care unit which provides expert nurse care for patients who have had brain, spine and heart surgery, including other major complex surgery.

Spire Bristol sees more than 60,000 patients per year and performs over 10,000 operations, with higher than 97% of our patients telling us every month that they are likely to recommend our hospital to friends and family if they need similar care or treatment.

“There are few, if any, elective neurosurgical cases that I do not consider Spire Bristol Hospital could manage. In a recent prospective continuous audit of the first 30 cranial cases performed at Spire Bristol Hospital, covering a varying range of complex brain tumours, we have seen excellent results, including: no infections; no cases of MRSA bacteraemia; no cases of C-Difficile infection; no cases of DVT or returns to theatre; and no mortality and morbidity as a result of surgery.”

Mr David Porter, Consultant Neurosurgeon

If there is a question about anaesthesia...

Patient surveys show that there are often concerns about anaesthesia and aspects of peri-operative management. This may include issues relating to co-morbidities, drugs, allergies, and analgesia. At Spire Healthcare we encourage the close teamwork that exists between surgeons and anaesthetists. These special relationships help to enhance communication and clinical governance.

More than 50 consultant anaesthetists work regularly at the hospital. If there is a matter relating to an individual patient that you wish to bring to the anaesthetist's notice, we recommend you contact the consultant surgeon's secretary. The information can then be passed on to the relevant consultant anaesthetist who may in turn contact you and/or your patient before admission.

Our Pre-Admission Clinic has proved helpful in managing the increased prevalence of co-morbidities and to allow screening for infection.

Major cardiac and neurosurgical procedures are regularly performed at the hospital, and appropriate critical care facilities and trained staff are on hand.

Staff are available to provide support to all our patients, not only those who are more obviously at risk.

Our anaesthetists are particularly concerned to provide optimal acute pain management, a key indicator of patient satisfaction. A regular review is made of this important aspect of post-operative care and good practice developments are introduced when indicated.

Consultant anaesthetists are available for chronic pain relief management (p6).
