Services for private patients who choose to self-pay for treatment

Many people don't have medical insurance but can still arrange full treatment at a private hospital by opting to "pay as they go".

There are even payment plans available (see below).

Benefits of self pay treatment at Spire Leeds Hospital

- Out-patient appointments within 48 hours, from £150
- Consultant-led care throughout treatment
- Transfer of NHS medical records made easy
- Ability to transfer back to NHS if needed
- Free car parking
- Competitively-priced packages for most operations which include follow-up care
- Out-patient self pay also available for physiotherapy, X-rays or scans, blood and other tests

Spire Leeds has a dedicated private patient advisor team to help patients who are self-paying with information, guidance and bookings.

Perform Centre at Spire Leeds

Specialist physiotherapy > rehabilitation > sports performance

Sports and Exercise Medicine at Spire Leeds Hospital

Spire Leeds is one of the Spire group's largest hospitals and is home to the Perform Centre.

Aimed at the general public and elite sports professionals, Perform Leeds encompasses a fully refurbished specialist centre and 2 adjoining gymnasia. Perform Leeds offers a wide range of specialist services ranging from rehab and physio for patients and customers needing rapid appointments right through to customised exercise packages and conditioning sessions for amateur and also for elite (and in some cases Olympic) sports professionals.

Exercise is medicine

The value of exercise and physical activity in promoting wellness, preventing disease and reducing illness morbidity is now fully recognised. Heart disease, diabetes, stroke, obesity, osteoporosis, elderly frailty, dementia and low back pain are some of the most recognisable conditions for which there is a causal link to physical inactivity

Perform beyond your expectations

What is Sport & Exercise Medicine (SEM)?

The SEM specialty was officially established in 2005 as a new medical specialty to coincide with the bid to hold the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

SEM medicine employs a multi-disciplinary approach to dealing with all aspects of health and illness that may prevent a person from engaging in, or returning to, physical or sporting activity. Only those who have undergone lengthy and specialist training can be accredited as SEMs and membership across the UK is still low at just over 500.

SEM work in the NHS but also have roles as team doctors across amateur and professional sport, in organisations such as the English Institute of Sport, with the Armed Forces and in private practice at centres such as Spire Leeds Hospital.

What does Perform Leeds offer?

Chris Duffy
Physiotherapy
Manager

Jack Nightingale, head of physiotherapy and Perform Leeds explains more what Perform can offer...

"For the first time, we can offer therapies in conjunction with cutting-edge monitoring, measurement and conditioning equipment for both our existing patients and also for new customers from elite and amateur sport."

The beauty of the service is the ease with which we can cross-refer to different specialists and pool knowledge. There are opportunities for research and a lot of interest in the Alter-G (see opposite)". Our principle aim of the new service is to:

- > enhance performance for sport at any level
- > rehabilitate and enable people to exercise following surgery, injury or illness and to encourage fitness amongst those who may have restricted movement."

Perform Leeds – Open to All

- > The centre is open to anyone who wishes to simply "Pay as they go" or for those with medical cover or insurance.
- > Referral to the centre by a GP or medical professional is not always required – patients can call or email to check if they can book themselves into our clinics.
- > Appointments Monday – Friday (evenings included) and Saturday mornings.
- > Once referred, patients have access to the hospital's wider range of scanning, blood testing, heart testing and respiratory specialists, all on site.

Cutting-edge technology at Perform Leeds – Spotlight on Alter-G

The Perform Centre is currently the only hospital in the North to invest in a leading-edge service called Alter-G.

In the Leeds area, Alter-G has previously only been available for use by professional and elite sports teams to provide rehabilitation for athletes.

Perform at Spire Leeds now offers everyone the chance to benefit from Alter-G in the new strength and conditioning gym.

- > Alter-G is an anti-gravity treadmill which treats patients who are recovering from surgery or injury and who cannot put full weight ("weight bear") to stand upright and exercise.
- > The patient is attached to supporting frames within the piece of equipment so that they are "lifted" and their weight is reduced by up to 80%. This then allows them to partially weight-bear on the treadmill below and so work towards regaining condition, balance and function.
- > Alter-G's unique precision allows patients to exercise with far less discomfort and to improve their confidence exercising, improve gait and enhance balance.
- > Alter-G provides doctors and physiotherapists with a precise way of measuring a patient's progress.

Alter-G. Individual sessions £25 per 30 minutes.

Occupational therapy and splinting services

Appointments: 0113 218 5908/09

Service run by Caroline Pellatt

Tuesday 9am - 12noon

Patients with private medical insurance need to check their cover with their insurer prior to booking an appointment. Self-paying patients can be referred straight to the clinic by GP or specialist.

Thermoplastic splinting

Splinting can be provided for protection, stretching or preventing contractures, following surgical intervention, resting swollen or arthritic limbs, neurological conditions or for improving function.

Scar management

Using a variety of treatment modalities to improve appearance and texture of scars.

Desensitisation

Treatment to improve hypersensitivity and increase function.

Hand therapy

Assessment and treatment of patients who have sustained a bony or soft tissue injury of the hand and upper limb with particular emphasis on improving range of movement, grip strength and function.

Rheumatology

Assessment and treatment of patients with rheumatological problems requiring joint protection advice, splinting and help with functional everyday activities.

Musculoskeletal services, sports & exercise medicine (SEM)

We provide a comprehensive, high quality service covering all aspects of musculoskeletal conditions and assessment and investigation of all bone, joint and soft tissue issues.

This ensures our clients receive clear, accurate reports that are based on up to date evidence helping our referring clinicians to optimise patient management. We perform image guided joint injection/aspiration as well as therapeutic image guided intervention techniques such as ultrasound guided tendon needling, nerve root blockade and vertebroplasty.
